3 scams targeting businesses right now.

Each one looks real. Here's how to spot them before you click, pay or reply.

SCAM 1

WhatsApp · Unknown number

"Hi, I sent you a 6-digit code by mistake. Can you forward it to me?"

The WhatsApp takeover.

Red flag: that code lets them take over your account and message all your contacts as you.

Do this: never share a code. Turn on two-step verification in WhatsApp settings.

SCAM 2

Message from "the boss"

"Are you free? I need a quick payment made today. Keep this between us."

The urgent boss request.

Red flag: urgency, secrecy and a new number or email.

Do this: call your boss on the number you already have before you pay anything.

SCAM 3

Email · IT Support

"Your account will be locked today. Click here to sign in and confirm."

The fake login page.

Red flag: a link to a website that looks real, with a slightly wrong address.

Do this: go to the site yourself, never through the link. Turn on 2-step sign-in.

Your team is your first line of defence.
We train them to spot the scam.
